Narrative Description of Activities for Hunger & Malnutrition Organization

Overview

It is the mission, duty and purpose of No Hunger Inc. to address, educate, coordinate, and provide aid and relief to eradicate chronic malnutrition and hunger on a local and global level.

It is our duty to be available when we are capable to provide one of the most important yet basic human rights to ordinary people during times of extraordinary tribulation by trying to help them to secure their humanity through the provision of food.

The right to food is a human right derived from the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR). The United Nations Special Report defined it as follow:

“Right to adequate food is a human right, inherent in all people, to have regular, permanent and unrestricted access, either directly or by means of financial purchases, to quantitatively and qualitatively adequate and sufficient food corresponding to the cultural traditions of people to which the consumer belongs, and which ensures a physical and mental, individual and collective fulfilling and dignified life free of fear.”

The right to adequate food is realized when every man, woman and child, alone or in community with others, have the physical and economic access at all times to adequate food or means for its procurement.

Education

No Hunger Inc. provides education on chronic malnutrition and hunger through the dissemination of facts, charts, graphs, and statistics. We provide this information by presenting live media interviews, lectures and slideshows titled, “The World Hunger Exhibition,” at schools, libraries and other public venues. These presentations focus on the causes, current efforts and solutions to chronic malnutrition and hunger. They also highlight the geographical, economical, and social aspects of chronic malnutrition. Examples of said presentations that have been given are at the Lewis and Clark Public Library in Helena, Montana the Klondike River Lodge located in Dawson City, Yukon Territory, Canada, and at the Barstow branch of the San Bernardino County Public Library in California.

We take advantage of various social media outlets such as discussion forums, blogs and social networking sites. Some of media outlets that have conducted interviews of or featured No Hunger Inc. are: NBC News, HCTV, and The Independent Record. All media interviews can be viewed on the corporation's website: www.motorcyclememoir.com.

We also chronicle our efforts and activities on the corporation's website. One feature that will be incorporated into the website is an educational essay written by professionals such as public health administrators, dieticians, physicians, and activists in the same or related field(s).

By offering educational events as well as our publications and website, No Hunger Inc. is educating the public on subjects useful to individuals and beneficial to the community and is advocating and defending human and civil rights secured by law.

Disaster Relief

No Hunger Inc. aims to provide disaster relief aid in the form of food and water to the severely disadvantaged who are affected by either a lack of existing community resources or a lack of funding and supplies to existing local infrastructures in the time of need. No Hunger Inc. operates and focuses its resources locally and globally to communities who meet the aforementioned criteria regardless of their geographical location.

Examples of the severely disadvantaged populations would be those affected by natural disasters and the displaced victims of sectarian and ethnic violence such as the devastating results of Hurricane Katrina in the states of Louisiana and Mississippi and refugees of Rwanda civil war in Africa.

11.4 million refugees are under the care of the United Nations. It is estimated that the total number of those who have been displaced has surpassed 25 million world-wide as of 2022. The total for 2022 was 9.9 million (source: The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees).

We provide disaster relief aid through organizing volunteers to serve in affected areas by coordinating and carrying out the distribution of food and water. The provisions will be derived from our general fund and public support.

Distribution to Other Organizations and Individuals

We do not fundraise for any specific organization and No Hunger Inc. is not organized solely to contribute or fundraise for any specific entity. However, at the discretion of the board of directors we may at times, choose to contribute to other organizations who share a similar mission and only if the contributions further our exempt status, with the objective to eliminate and alleviate chronic malnutrition and hunger.

One example of an organization which we may contribute to is the “Friends of the World Food Programme” (EIN 13-3843435) which is a U.S.-based, nonprofit, nonpartisan 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt charitable organization that focuses on building support in the United States for the United Nations World Food Programme (WFP) and other hunger relief operations which shares a similar mission to Transcontinental Humanitarian Corporation. WFP is the world’s largest humanitarian organization, working to put hunger at the center of the international agenda and promoting policies, strategies and operations that directly benefit the poor and hungry.

No Hunger Inc. may exercise its right under law to contribute to non 501 (c)(3) organizations only on the condition that No Hunger Inc. retains control over the use of the funds and maintaining records showing that the funds are used for exclusively charitable purposes in accordance to our mission.

Programs for Volunteers

At times, per the discretion of the board of directors, we may provide internships or volunteer opportunities which will provide opportunities for involvement in outreach activities and programs in order to have a greater impact for change. One of the activities that volunteers may be involved in is basic education on topics such as nutrition, diet, agricultural techniques, livestock growing, and water treatment in order to promote sustainability. Such activities shall always be free of charge to participants and will not include compensation to the volunteers.

Multimedia

It is our goal to bring awareness from every medium possible and this does not exclude documentaries and photos of our activities, projects, programs and expeditions. By documenting and reporting our efforts we intend to broaden our outreach. These multimedia features will be recorded by our volunteers during the aforementioned activities and will be available to the public.
